Delivery Mode:

Online via HELI's Cloud campus

Face-to-face at HELI's Melbourne campus

Participants will need to have access to an electronic device (such as a laptop, tablet or smart phone) with internet access to successfully undertake this subject.

Pre-requisites:

There are no pre-requisites for this subject.

Subject requirements:

To successfully complete this subject a student must attempt all assessment tasks and achieve at least 50% of the total marks.

Subject Aim and Content:

The aim of this subject is to provide students with the opportunity to create a defined piece of independent research or to independently develop an artefact that further fosters the development of high-order eLearning knowledge and skills.

There is no conventional content in this subject as such. Instead it caps the course off with a creative endeavour in which students develop a research project, a course, a subject or similar. It must of course relate to eLearning.

The subject will also enable students to demonstrate their capability in writing high-level research and development results. The students should also demonstrate mastery of time-management and the presentation of research and development outcomes.

Subject Learning Outcomes (SLO):

On successful completion of this subject students will be able to:
SLO1	Create a defined piece of independent research or to develop an artefact that relates to eLearning, based on a research and development design.
SLO2	Write high-level research and development progress reports.
SLO3	Manage their time, balancing competing commitments and meeting task deadlines.
SLO4	Devise a means of effectively presenting research and development outcomes to stakeholders.
